

Take the stress out of going Back to School.

It's that time... time to head off to college. And whether it's their or your freshman year in the dorms, junior year in a first apartment, they're heading off to grad school or you're 36 and heading back for the first time in 18 years, there is one thing that is certain, it can be a time of great angst. There is lots to think about: what laptop to get, what do I need for my dorm, how I can be sure to balance school, fun, health and life. Yes, it's an exciting time, it's a fun time, and we want to make sure it isn't a stressful time by helping you find the right gear for no matter what situation back to school means for you. That's why we invite you to start your journey with a conversation with a Best Buy Home Expert or Designer – their product and back to school know-how will make going back a great experience, where you're sure you have all you need to succeed.

Schedule a FREE Consultation

Learning—that's why you're there, right?

The laptop is the centerpiece of your college education. Courses, notes, research, papers... finding the right laptop is key to success. A quick search of laptops on BestBuy.com presents 1,310 different models. All right, now what?

Thankfully Best Buy has a few ways to narrow down the 1,310 to that perfect one. Working with a Best Buy Home Expert is a great way to find that perfect laptop. Discussing your needs, aspirations and personal situation, they can help narrow down your choices so the laptop you get today is the laptop you need for the entire school year and beyond.

You can also explore our laptop finder. This simple tool will help you easily narrow down your choices, so you find the right computer for you.

Make the most of your free time.

College is a lot of work, but you also need to find time to take a breather and have fun. So when you're not hitting the books, hit the fun button with the gear that makes free time a blast.

Music is a huge part of college life. Finding the right headphones is key: in-ear, over the ear, wireless, there are lots of headphone styles and brands to choose from, and we'll help you find the perfect ones. Want a booming system for your dorm room or apartment – even if your neighbors will hate it, we'll help you find the system you're going to love. Go vinyl, surround sound, big bass or keep it simple with a wireless speaker. We've got the perfect audio solutions.

And of course, the right TV for your space connected to a sweet video game system will not only bring in the fun, but bring in new friends as well. And if you're going to pack your room with friends, we've also got the right furniture for studying and relaxing, whether it's in a dorm room or an apartment. Creating the place in your dorm to gather might be just what you're looking for, and we have the gear and know-how to make it happen.

Ya gotta eat!

Mom or Dad's home cooked meals may become a thing of the past when you head off to school, but healthy eating habits don't need to. We'll help you stay healthy with small appliances that can ensure you keep up with your healthy eating goals. We also offer coffee makers and espresso machines to make getting that early morning pick-me-up easy, and cost effective.

Dorm fridges and microwaves are both necessities in keeping your drinks cold and your leftovers warm. We've got hundreds of colors, sizes, styles and price ranges to fit your space and your budget.

Bringing it all together.

There's lots of things to think about when heading back to college. Let us handle the tech. Whether we chat online, talk in person, in our stores or in your home, a FREE consultation with a Home Expert will hook you up with everything you need for heading back to school. The right laptop, dorm or apartment gear, healthy eating appliances, even headphones, furniture and personal care. We've got it all, plus the know-how to make sure you get what's just right for you. So, get ready with one trip to Best Buy and let our Experts take the stress out of going back, so all you have to worry about is if your roommate snores or not.

Good luck, have fun, and let's chat.