YARDBIRD Entertain with Yardbird's Favorite Summer Cocktail Recipe

Blueberry Bliss:

Summery and refreshing, but not too sweet. The touch of lemon paired with aromatic rosemary create levels of flavor to this cocktail.

Ingredients:

- 2 oz vodka
- 1 oz blueberry syrup
- 1/4 oz lemon
- 1/4 oz simple syrup
- 4 oz soda water

How to make the Blueberry Bliss:

- Combine all into an ice filled wine glass
- Stir with a sprig of rosemary and add a few blueberries to garnish

2. Warm Up

Give your food some time to come up to room temperature before grilling, around 20 or 30 minutes for thick meats. This will help the food cook more evenly and quicker too.

3. Let it Be

Let the food develop a seared crust before moving or flipping it. Doing this too soon, or too often, will cause the food to stick to the grates and will increase moisture loss.

4. Let it Rest

Once your food is done cooking, remove it from the grill and let it rest for 5 to 10 minutes, depending on size. This gives liquids inside proteins a chance to redistribute. Also keep in mind that when grilling meats, the doneness and temperature go up during the resting time. So make sure you remove meats from the grill a few degrees before it reaches your desired doneness.

5. Sauce at the end

High moisture and sweet sauces or marinades should be avoided due to the fact that sugar caramelizes and burns quickly. Liquids and sugars will make your food stick to the grates. If your recipes call for a sauce you should brush it on after you remove the food from the grill.

6. Burn and Brush

When you are done grilling, close your grill and allow the residual heat to burn any pieces of food stuck on the grates. Afterwards, just clean the grates with a steel bristle brush.

LYNX Tips for Grilling Everything

1. Preheat

A cold grill will make your food stick to the grates. Pre-heat your Lynx grill well before starting to grill. The grates need to be hot enough so the meat or whatever you are grilling releases from the grates. You can start off with the grill hot enough and then adjust to your desired temperature, or make sure you give the food enough time to release from the grates before flipping or moving in case you started grilling with a lower temperature.

To Prepare the Burger

- Allow the burgers to sit out on a plate for 15 minutes to temper.
- Season the burgers with salt and pepper and grill them over high heat around 3 minutes per side or desired internal temperature is reached.
- While burgers are being grilled, place buns over medium low heat on a separate burner and toast slightly.
- Serve burgers with blue cheese spread - add bacon, lettuce and tomato as desired.

Burgers with Caramelized Onion Blue Cheese Spread

To Prepare the Caramelized Onion and Blue Cheese Spread:
Place cream cheese in a food processor and puree until smooth, scraping the sides and blade often. Add caramelized onions, mayo, blue cheese, thyme and black pepper. Pulse until well incorporated, scraping often. Season with salt to taste.

6 Tips to Create the Outdoor Kitchen Experience of your Dreams

1. Location - Choose a location for your outdoor kitchen that is convenient and easily accessible from your home, you never know when you might need something and going back and forth can ruin the entire experience.

2. Equipment - There are a ton of outdoor kitchen equipment available on the market. Think about how you love to cook. Your outdoor kitchen can become extreme or simple.

3 Lighting - Good lighting is crucial in an outdoor kitchen. Especially when entertaining. Don't forget to plan these into the design. Why not have the option to entertaining day and night.

4. Entertainment - Consider extending your sound system to the outdoors. Leverage outdoor speakers, outdoor TVs and more to make your outdoor experience comfortable and relaxing no matter the situation.

5. Seating - Think about how you will want to entertain or relax. Comfortable seating is always a must. Consider a dining table, bar stools, or outdoor lounge furniture.

6. Smart Home Automation - Consider adding smart home automation to your outdoor kitchen. This could include features like smart lighting, voice-activated controls and sound. You can use a smart home app to control all these features from your smartphone or tablet, making it easy to adjust the settings and create a customized experience for your guests.
