What do our customers say?

"I am sure you make the majority of your money from published cookbooks, but my girls and I love using the online recipe box. I decided to do this when they all moved to different cities. I was recently in Austin over Thanksgiving and my daughter was cooking from her Netbook via online Family Cookbook. Often they ask for a recipe and I send it via online recipe share. I think this is great. Thanks!"

- Donna Field, The Field/Miller Family Cookbook Project

"I just picked up my cookbook from Kinko's and I love it! It's even better than I expected. Thank you for your help all those times when I hit a snag during the process. It was fun and my kids are going to be tickled to death. Now, maybe they can make the dishes themselves instead of asking me to make them for them. LOL"
