Troubleshooting

The blasters support a range of approximately 70 feet outdoors and 120 feet indoors. For best performance, aim at your opponent's blaster. Direct sunlight may affect the range and performance of the blasters. Please keep in mind that this product does not transmit well through obstacles such as trees, buildings, and metal structures. If the signal range of the blasters decreases notably, you may have to change your location. If the signal range is still shorter than expected, replace the batteries.
