Many electrical items can be repaired or recycled, saving natural resources and the environment. If you do not recycle, electrical equipment will end up in landfill where hazardous substances will leak out and cause soil and water contamination – harming wildlife and also human health. To remind you that old electrical equipment can be recycled, it is now marked with a crossed out wheeled bin symbol. Please do not throw any electrical equipment (including those marked with the crossed out wheeled bin symbol) in your bin.

FOR WIRELESS PRODUCT

EU/EC DECLARATION OF CONFORMITY

This equipment complies with the European R&TTE Directive. A copy of the EU/EC Declaration of Conformity can be found at skullcandy.eu/product-documents

Many Local Authorities will have containers that collect batteries for recycling. Public buildings and your workplace may also have containers. If you do not recycle, batteries will end up in landfill where hazardous substances will leak out and cause soil and water contamination – harming wildlife and also human health. Batteries containing hazardous materials such as mercury (Hg), cadmium (Cd) or lead (Pb) are marked with their chemical symbols as well. This symbol means that according to local laws and regulations the battery shall be disposed of separately from household waste. When this product reaches its end of life, take it to a collection point designated by local authorities or return to purchase location for recycling or disposal.
