THE NEW 600 SERIES

Bring storied sound to every moment with the new 600 Series speakers from Bowers & Wilkins. Since 1966, we've made technological advances to design the perfect loudspeaker, and our latest innovations bring that heritage to music and movie lovers alike. Our speakers are used in leading recording studios around the world because of their accuracy, such as at the legendary Abbey Road Studios. Bowers & Wilkins brings music and sound to your ears the way it was meant to be heard. The 600 Series features our award-winning Continuum cone, which creates layered sound with a pristine soundscape. The Continuum cone was developed over an eight-year period and was first featured on our flagship 800 Series Diamond. Today, this sees its way into the sixth generation of the critically acclaimed 600 Series, offered in both stereo and surround sound. Enjoy every moment thanks to the storied sound of the new 600 Series.
